n. The act of working together; united labor.
Webster's Dictionary

"We are the experts in c-Commerce."

We specialize in collaboration commerce (c-Commerce) services to help our clients build dynamic multi-dimensional relationships with a wide universe of buyers, partners, and sellers.

We do this strategically by leveraging what collaborators know and share; how collaborators work and how they are enabled to work virtually.

We help our clients solve how to collaborate quickly and profitably.

Why is c-Commerce important?

- ◆ Opportunities enabled by the Internet allow real-time collaboration beyond traditional trading partners and lead to different and innovative ways to solve business problems and capture new business.
- ◆ Increase in virtual-based communities (consumers, customers, employees, suppliers) to rapidly self-organize.
- ◆ Explosion of multi-channel commerce enabling enterprises to deliver greater value to customers by synchronizing events and activities among business partners.

What we do

Helix Commerce has expertise in four core service lines of business. We bring together Market Opportunities, Collaboration & Social, Business Transformation, and Ideas & Inspirations to meet our clients' growth needs. Helix has an experienced team of professionals and partners that execute effectively the strategy, human, process, and technology requirements of our clients' needs.
